Hull & Deck

The SeaRay sundancer features a roomy cockpit with two large, opposing seats. The aft seat extends to make a sunpad. An integral hardtop (lightweight fiberglass over foam sandwich) provides shade (and reduces heat load) for the helm area and anchor for the removable enclosure. The helm area features a bench seat and swiveling operator's chair, with all instruments, electronics and controls laid out in an easy-to-use arrangement. A transom door leads to a generous swim platform with an integral swim ladder.

Sea Ray hulls and decks are balsa cored fiberglass. All hull and deck penetrations are sealed and laminated to prevent moisture intrusion. These hulls ride well in light to moderate sea conditions and are especially easy to dock and maneuver with one or two persons.

Remarks

The Sea Ray 46 Sundancer has been one of Sea Ray's most popular models, with her open salon arrangement featuring a convertible second stateroom. These boats are easy to operate, service, maintain and enjoy. "Ana Barbara" is a fine example of the mint condition often found on fresh water-kept boats (in Florida only since 11.07). Savvy Sea Ray buyers will recognize true value in her near-new boat condition and attractive pricing.
